

Our new prospectus is out now!

Every family has been given a copy of our new prospectus. We are really pleased with it and we hope you like it as well. We have tried to illustrate the core values of Annan in words and photographs. Please leave your copy out for friends to read and show it to people who might be interested in sending their child to Annan.

The prospectus was designed by Annabel Jones and many of the photos were taken by Kevin Jones. If you are thinking of having some website design or brochure printing done do get in touch with them – their work is amazing. hello@windmillcreative.co.uk
